Conservator's Note

This is a new acquisition in excellent condition. It is currently stored in a self-closing wrapper created by the artist. The wrapper is labeled with the title of the book. Because the closure of the wrapper is becoming worn, the book and self-closing wrapper are being stored separately within a new blue corrugated board clamshell. The artist book and original enclosure are separated by a corrugated board shelf. The artist book was photographed by the lab as the artist intended the book to be displayed, referencing images taken by the artist herself. Archival, pigmented images of the displayed book were printed on an Epson P7000 printer and stored in the corrugated clamshell within a polyester L-sleeve to assist users in better understanding the material.
