Dear Friend:

Certainly I was glad to hear from you. Needless to say I have heard a great deal about you. I have not heard from Sinclair Lewis for a year, and I do not know what he is writing. Why not write to him direct, care his publishers, Harcourt, Brace and Company, 383 Madison Ave., New York City?

There is one thing I might do and that is to send you some of my books and let you put them into circulation. Check off any that you want on the enclosed list. I assume you get the current magazines. You will find my new novel, "Boston", starting in the February Bookman.

Sincerely,
