

San Quentin, California

September 6, 1920

My dear Shorty:

There is always one thing that I overlook when I am talking to you personally and to me it is the most important of all. That is a word or line by way of O.K. when some particular transaction has been completed.

I am anxious about one item among your notes, namely the Burson matter; when you have attended to it please drop me a line to that effect so that I can dismiss it from mind. Then when you have disposed of the other matters would like to have a blanket acknowledgement as to them. I dislike being in doubt about this or that particular item.

Don't forget to say "Hello!" for me at Cleveland to any of my friends that you may meet. Hope you have a pleasant and successful trip and that you will return safe and sound. As always,